Sport fishing luxury on a grand scale describes the 66 Super Sport, the biggest boat in the Ocean fleet during the 1990s, and still a handsome yacht today in spite of her age.

She's basically an improved (and water riding) version of the earlier 62 Super Sport with a deeper cockpit, a redesigned transom, additional fuel, and a newly configured flybridge. The 66 is built on a rugged modified V hull with coral hull sides and a nearly flat 7 degrees of reverse dead rise. Below decks, her built (and innovative) floor plan is arranged with the galley and dinette forward and a stow up from the helm cabin.
